

WARDLOW MIRES

POTTERY FESTIVAL

12-13 SEPTEMBER 2026

A CELEBRATION OF THE TABLE

DERBYSHIRE SK17 8RW
POTSFORFOOD.CO.UK

Welcome to the Wardlow Mires Pottery Festival.

It is a great pleasure to introduce this year's celebration of pottery and craftsmanship. Set in the unique landscape of Wardlow Mires, this festival brings together makers, visitors, and supporters who share an appreciation for the skill, creativity, and tradition at the heart of ceramics.

I first visited one of the very early festivals after meeting Pat and Geoff Fuller at The Three Stags Heads pub. I was hooked from the start. What first drew me in was the mix of craftsmanship, creativity, and community that made the early events feel so special. Over the years, that early enthusiasm has grown into a much deeper involvement, and my role has gradually evolved to become an integral part of the show and its team of organisers.

That journey has given me an even greater appreciation of what makes this festival so important. Our festival is not only a showcase for beautiful and distinctive ceramics, but also a celebration of the people, dedication, and shared passion that make it all possible. It is a place where makers, visitors and supporters come together to enjoy exceptional work and to help sustain the traditions and future of pottery.

It has been a privilege to see the festival develop while retaining the welcoming spirit that made such a strong impression on me at the beginning. Each year is a tribute to the hard work of the potters, organisers, volunteers, and supporters who give their time and energy to create something truly memorable.

Wardlow Mires Pottery Festival not only showcases exceptional work, but also helps keep these traditions alive by welcoming new, and established voices and generations of makers.

What we bring to you over the weekend is more than an exhibition of ceramics; it is a gathering of people who value artistry and the joy of making. Whether you are an experienced collector, a practising potter, or a first-time visitor, I hope you find inspiration in the work on display, relish conversations and soak up the shared enthusiasm that make this festival so special. I also hope you make some really special pottery purchases to take away and enjoy.

I am proud to play a part in the show and to work alongside such a committed team. Together, we work hard to help ensure that the festival evolves but remains a vibrant, inspiring and much-loved event.

My thanks go to all the potters, organisers, volunteers and supporters whose hard work has made this event possible. Their dedication ensures the festival continues to be a welcoming and vibrant occasion for everyone involved.

Please enjoy the festival and leave with the same sense of admiration and enthusiasm that first drew me in all those years ago.

Enjoy the festival.

Abby Worsnip
